

Eastern Indigo Snake

When full grown, the eastern indigo snake is longer than most people are tall! Indigo is the blue-black color of the snake's skin. This snake eats birds, frogs, and even other snakes. Snakes smell with their tongues. Stick out your tongue like a snake. What do humans smell with?

In what states is this species found?

