

Mississippi Sandhill Crane

These birds are about 4 feet tall when standing straight up on their feet. Sometimes, a group of cranes will dance in a great circle. The cranes bow to their partners and leap into the air. This tall, grayish bird lives in savannah habitats and is very rare.

In what state is this species found?

